Christopher Fareed is a multimedia artist, known by those close to him for his compulsive need to experiment. Although he focuses the majority of his energy on the Christopher Fareed line of rugs, his first and foremost favored mediums are in paint and sculpture art. Combining his constant experimentation with his near-perfectionist work ethic, his transition from paint and sculpture to textile arts seemed natural. Fareed prides himself in constantly re-defining the boundaries of rug making.

As a result, a vast collection of his paintings, collages and sculptures have been translated into several rug designs. Over the years he has cultivated an independent standing and business model that has allowed uncompromising artistic freedom and experimentation with radical structures and forms.

Some of his original work drew its influence from print media, pop art and grunge culture; exploring the use of these cultural trends and incorporating them into home decor. Fareed's use of color and texture has made waves in the rug industry.

He enjoys visually integrating the interiors with progressions of popular culture, principally reflecting modern trends and personality; incorporating individual style in existing architecture. Each rug is its own idiosyncrasy and acknowledgement of our evolving culture. Each rug with its own idiosyncrasy is a tribute to the current trends.

HAND KNOTTED

Products of a centuries-old form of weaving developed in the Tibetan highlands, hand knotted rugs are true masterpieces of the rug world. Masterfully woven with hand-dyed wool and silk by our skilled artisans, these rugs are composed of thousands of precise knots done by hand. Once complete, the rugs are expertly carved and finished, bringing the designs to life.

The Christopher Fareed Hand Knotted collection is a product of timeless craftsmanship. As a perfect marriage of art, luxury and functionality, these items are the ultimate way to elevate your interior.

HAND TUFTED

Tufted rugs are created by hand using a tool known as a tufting gun that punches and severs the yarn repeatedly through a supporting canvas backing. Once complete, these items are carved and finished to perfection.

Christopher Fareed's Signature rugs are expertly tufted to enhance intricate designs and detail variation. Hand tufted rugs are the staple for any home or commercial application, offering beautiful colors and detailing. Unleash your creative side and bring your space to life.

IMPORTANT

Christopher Fareed rugs are created using artisan techniques and we pay special attention to every aspect of detail. Afterward, each rug undergoes a thorough quality control inspection. Every item is custom made to your specification, ensuring the best result for your space.

Based on the needs of the customer, we manufacture custom one-of-a-kind rugs with tailored sizes, personalized colors and shapes for most of our designs.

All our rugs are made by hand, which means there may be some variation in color and any provided material. These variations do not represent manufacturing faults, nor do they affect the overall quality or durability of the rug.

Due to the nature of the ink used in this catalog, there may be some slight color variation between the image here and the colors on an electronic display.
